4. How does the way the Boatswain talks to the men change? Why does his tone change in this way? (3 marks)

- Initially he is polite as it says in the stage directions 'in a strained voice showing he is conscious of who he is speaking to' which shows he isn't showing his true emotions. He uses words like 'plead' and says he wants the guests to be safe.
- He then becomes 'increasingly frustrated' when the men still don't listen to him. He uses words like 'hindrance' to describe the men but still explains that he wants the men to be safe.
- By the end of the exchange he 'loses his temper' and 'speaks plainly' which shows that the men aren't listening to his warnings. He explains that he doesn't care about anyone aboard more than himself and is no longer being polite to the guests.

5. Why does the Boatswain want the men to return to their cabins? Provide two reasons. (2 marks)

6. The sailors say, "Pray for your lives while you can." What does this suggest about how they are feeling about the situation? (2 marks)

By saying 'while you can' it suggests that there isn't much time left until the ship is destroyed by the storm and so even a quick and simple task like praying might not be achieved in time.
