Reading Long Term Plan

Reading is taught on a daily basis and supported through home reading. In daily reading sessions, children are taught different skills with an aim to develop a child who reads fluently, with understanding and for enjoyment.

Key concepts: These are explored through different texts and text types appropriate to the age and ability of the child.

- Word Reading Children are taught to apply their developing phonic knowledge to read fluently and accurately.
- Comprehension Children are taught the skills to understand and question the texts which they are reading.

Disciplinary Knowledge: This is explored in reading across the curriculum through consideration of authorial intent and genre

Progressive reading skills Within guided reading sessions, children are taught a range of skills in order for them to understand texts.

- Develop positive attitudes to reading Children are enthusiastic, independent readers by the time they leave primary school.
- Skills and Strategies to read for understanding Children expect texts to make sense to them and when they do not, they take steps to sort out the difficulties.
- Understand the vocabulary used in texts Children are exposed to increasingly adventurous vocabulary in order to widen their knowledge and understanding.
- Express, record and present their understanding Children recognise that the articulation of ideas about texts is an essential part of being a reader.
- Understand the whole text Children recognise and compare main ideas and themes in a wide range of books.
- Retrieve Information from texts Children noticing and understanding what is actually stated in a text.
- Inferential understanding Children are active readers, engaged in the search for meaning within a text.
- Reading to find out Children read non-fiction for both pleasure and for research purposes.
